In addition, paper products, soap, toothpaste, diapers, pet food and similar items are often available. Hopelink Welcomes Everyone

We respect and value cultural differences at all times. Recently, news stories about the future of those who have immigrated to our country have caused fear and worry for some of you who come to Hopelink for help. We want you to know that we work hard to be a safe haven for those who need help. All services are still available, and all Hopelink locations are safe and welcoming places to be.

You will find a safe place at Hopelink.

Get help with your heating bill

The beginning of fall often signals cooler weather, but what if you can’t afford to turn on the heat where you live? Hopelink can help.

We believe a household should never have to choose between heat and electricity or other necessities, such as food, health care or shelter. Energy assistance funds can enable you to spend your money on other essential expenses.

Hopelink may be able to provide up to $1,000 of your home heating costs each year. If you qualify for the program, you can receive assistance even if you are not behind on your bill and have not received a shut-off notice.

Beginning October 1, both new and returning clients will be able to begin applying for energy assistance grants for the 2019-2020 season.

How to apply

In-person or phone appointments

Schedule an appointment by visiting the energy page on the Hopelink website, or by calling 425.658.2592. Scheduling online is the fastest and easiest way to get an appointment. If all appointments are filled, try again the following Monday. The beginning of the season is always the busiest and it might be difficult to schedule an appointment, but don’t stop trying.

Drop-off application

Another way to apply for energy assistance is to complete a printed application and drop it off – along with copies of the required documentation – at your local Hopelink center. If you would like to complete an application packet on your own, you can go to any center and ask for a packet, or download the application on our website. We recommend this method for those who have received energy assistance from Hopelink in the past. Visit www.hopelink.org/energy for the drop-off application.

Eligibility

In order to receive energy assistance, you must live in the Hopelink service area and meet income eligibility guidelines. Visit www.hopelink.org/energy to determine whether you are eligible.

Questions? To learn more about the energy program, visit the Hopelink webpage or call your local center.

Hopelink toy & gift rooms bring happier holidays

At Hopelink, we believe every family and child should enjoy a happy holiday season! In December, Hopelink food banks will become holiday wonderlands; filled with new electronics, books, games, clothes, toys and stocking stuffers. The gift rooms enable parents and grandparents who may not be able to afford to buy presents during the holidays to “shop” for their children or grandchildren.

Gifts come from many different sources, including local toy drives, corporate-sponsored giving trees and individual donors, and all the gifts are brand new, unopened and unwrapped. The festive gift rooms are staffed by Hopelink volunteers who serve as “personal shoppers” for each parent or grandparent. Hopelink staff and volunteers alike say there is nothing more exciting than seeing a parent’s face light up when they find the perfect present for their child!

Currently registered food bank clients can begin signing up for gift room appointments in late October. If you qualify for a Hopelink food bank but are NOT already registered, you will need to either sign up as a food bank client or bring current proof of address, along with IDs for all children in the household, before you can schedule a gift room appointment.

This year, the gift rooms will be held at Hopelink’s Redmond, Shoreline and Sno-Valley centers. Families who are signed up with either the Kirkland or Bellevue Hopelink centers can attend the gift room at Redmond. This schedule will enable our Kirkland and Bellevue food banks to stay open to provide food for families during the holidays.

Gift room dates and times will vary by location and will be posted on the Hopelink website as soon as they are available. No children are allowed in the gift room, and only one parent per household may attend.

Please note: The gift room schedule may result in a change in regular food bank dates and times during the month of December. Please contact your local center for more information.
Support available to help you weather a financial storm

Do you need short-term support to get through an unexpected financial crisis? Help applying for financial assistance to pay your bills? Guidance to help you gather information that will launch you toward longer-term goals?

Hopelink’s Financial Resiliency Program can help. In this program, you will be able to meet with a Hopelink staff member to discuss your situation and goals, learn about programs and resources that can help you make progress, create an “action plan” or budget worksheet to organize your thoughts and fill out and submit various applications or get support researching possibilities.

Program staff also can help you put together successful applications for financial assistance (dependent on availability), and ensure that an application is approved.

You can meet with your Stability Resource Specialist one time, or for up to two months per enrollment. Because the program is designed to provide short-term support, we also will be able to connect you with other programs if, after two enrollments, you are interested in additional support.

Appointments are a judgment-free zone to explore your options and make sure you have the information you need to make the best decisions for yourself and your household. This program will help you explore ways to build a bigger “buffer” around your financial wellbeing, and keep yourself more stable in the face of life’s financial storms.

What can I expect if I sign up with this program?

After discussing your situation with the Hopelink front desk – in person or on the phone – you will be scheduled for a consultation (usually via phone) to determine the type of assistance that’s right for you.

Next, you will come in for a longer, in-person appointment to complete a financial assistance application or discuss your situation in greater depth. You will talk about resources and referrals that may help you achieve your goals and create a plan together.

What kind of help can I receive?

We can:

- Connect you with Hopelink services may be right for you, such as the food bank, a financial coach, GED preparation, English for Work, Employment Services and Family Development.
- Refer you to other agencies that can provide healthcare, education programs, discounted transportation programs, mental health services and domestic violence support.
- Provide check-ins and in-person appointments as desired throughout your 2-month enrollment, to help you navigate resources and provide the support you need to achieve your goals. We also will schedule a follow-up appointment about 90 days after your first meeting.

How can I make an appointment?

If you live in the Hopelink service area and meet the program’s income guidelines. Call your closest Hopelink center to find out if you are eligible and schedule a consultation today!

Hopelink Family Development Program can help you reach your goals

Does life seem overwhelming?
Are financial troubles weighing you down?
Do you need help finding housing?
Do you need help creating the life you want for your family?
Hopelink’s Family Development Program can provide ongoing support and encouragement for up to two years on some of the issues you may be struggling with.

Your case manager can empower you to connect with your strengths and goals in order to become self-sufficient; helping you develop new skills and create strategies that will enable you to succeed and build a stronger future.

We can help your family set short- and long-term goals toward improving your finances, employment, housing, education and family relationships. We can connect you with resources and will listen and support you in solving problems and achieving your goals.

If you live in north or east King County, are low-income and have at least one child under the age of 18 living with you, Hopelink’s Family Development Program can help your family find important resources within your community that will help you make lasting change.

How do I sign up?

Call 425.883.4755, complete an online contact form at www.Hopelink.org, or visit your nearest Hopelink center.

What will happen when I call or submit the form?

A member of the Family Development team will call you within a week.

What happens at the first appointment, and how long does it take?

The first appointment will last about 45-90 minutes. You will meet with a case manager to complete paperwork and provide eligibility documents (IDs, income information and proof of address).

What happens next?

Once you are signed up, a case manager will contact you to schedule another meeting, where you will begin creating a “goal plan” and map out the steps needed to achieve your goals. One of the unique aspects of Hopelink’s Family Development Program is that we will work with you to help you reach YOUR goals – that’s the best way we know to help you succeed!

Where do the meetings take place?

We can meet with you in any location that is convenient for you: your home, a library, coffee shop, Hopelink center, office or another location. Meeting times can be flexible, and interpreters are available.

How often should I plan to meet?

You will be required to meet twice monthly, although weekly meetings are offered and encouraged.

What will I be expected to do in between meetings?

You will be expected to work on the short- and long-term goals that you put together with your case manager. For example: schedule appointment with ELAP for legal help, meet with a college advisor, email a teacher to find out about your child’s progress in school.

How long can I use this program?

You can receive family development support for up to two years, and can leave the program at any time.

For more information or to enroll, call 425.883.4755.
What is the difference between a prepaid card, a credit card and a debit card?

This question comes up a lot, especially when trying to build credit or manage spending.

A debit card is a card that is linked directly to your checking account. You can use it anywhere a credit card is accepted. It will take the money directly out of your checking account. Debit cards are often associated with one of the major credit card companies and will usually have a Visa or MasterCard logo on them, but that can be misleading. Debit cards are not credit cards.

Prepaid cards vs. debit cards

Unlike a debit card, a prepaid card is not linked to a bank account. Instead, you are spending money that you have already “loaded” onto the card account in advance. In most cases, you can’t spend more money than you have already loaded onto your prepaid card. There are some exceptions and overspending can happen if you have “opted in” to an overdraft program through your bank or prepaid card issuer. This means that your bank may charge you a fee for covering the cost of a purchase or withdrawal that exceeds what you have in your account. You also will need to repay the overdraft, so make sure you understand the consequences of being “covered” by overdraft protection. If you are not sure, ask your bank to clarify.

Prepaid cards vs. credit cards

Prepaid cards are very different from credit cards. This can be confusing because both types of cards may have a logo such as Visa, MasterCard, American Express or Discover on them. When you use a credit card, you are borrowing money. When you use a prepaid card, you are spending money you have already loaded on the card in advance.

For more information about choosing the right card for you, visit the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) at www.consumerfinance.gov.

Contact Hopelink’s Financial Capabilities Program at 425.250.3003 or visit hopelink.org to meet with a financial coach.

MYTH BUSTER

With some purchases you may be given the option to choose a debit or credit transaction. Choosing “credit” will not affect your personal credit or your credit score. Choosing “credit” does not really change where the money comes from (your bank account). Instead, it just affects how the transaction is processed (through credit card processing networks).

Legal Help

The Eastside Legal Assistance Program (ELAP) is a non-profit legal aid organization that helps people in north and east King County with family law, immigration issues, bankruptcy and general law, as well as legal help for domestic violence throughout King County. Volunteer attorneys conduct 24 legal clinics every month in Bellevue, Redmond, Kirkland and Issaquah, including an Immigration Legal Clinic at Hopelink’s Bellevue center twice a month, and a family and general law clinic at the Kirkland center twice a month. Additional clinics meet at other eastside locations. ELAP also holds free public lectures on various legal issues in public libraries, community centers and schools.

To make an appointment for a free 30-minute consultation with an attorney, call 425.747.7274 Monday-Friday from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. This line is available in both English and Spanish, and through the use of telephonic interpreter services, ELAP is able to accommodate most other languages as well.

Eastside Baby Corner

Eastside Baby Corner (EBC) is a helpful resource that can help provide needed items for your children, so that you will be able to save money to pay other expenses. EBC serves more than 800 children each week; providing baby food, formula, diapers, clothing, cribs and car seats.

To place an order with Hopelink, you must be enrolled in one of our programs and have a child aged 12 or younger, and you must not be currently receiving EBC services through another organization.

Please contact your nearest Hopelink center for more information.

Express Credit Union Connection

Express Credit Union (ECU) has partnered with Hopelink to help you achieve your financial goals by offering flexible service at our centers and events. ECU is a safe and affordable way to open a bank account with an insured financial institution that offers banking options geared toward the needs of low- and moderate-income families. Accounts may be opened with a social security number or ITIN.

Ask at any of our centers about how to connect with ECU or contact them directly at www.expresscu.org or call 206.622.1850 to make an appointment to open an account or apply for membership and/or loans. Express Credit Union is federally insured by NCUA for deposits up to $250,000.

Community Health Services

International Community Health Services (ICHS) staff and clinics can connect Hopelink clients with affordable medical, dental, vision and behavioral health care; including check-ups, prenatal care, immunizations, teeth cleanings and restoration, medication-assisted treatment for opioid addiction and specialty care referrals. Those without health insurance can receive help applying for a free or low-cost plan, as well as guidance on other assistance programs that may be available.

ICHS offers a sliding-fee discount, and no one is denied care because of an inability to pay. Call 206.788.3700 to make an appointment at an ICHS clinic. Translation services provided in more than 50 languages.

Sammamish Community Ride

This service runs buses within a specific area, instead of along a set route. Payment can be made with cash and paper transfers, all ORCA cards and TransitGo mobile tickets. The service runs to and from five Sammamish neighborhoods between 7 a.m. and 6 p.m. Monday through Friday, and 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. on Saturdays, but not on major holidays. Riders can reserve trips as early as two hours before pick-up time and up to 30 days in advance, by calling 1.855.233.1800, or by visiting hopelink.org/need-help/transportation/dart-ride-request.

North Eastside Mobility

Routes 234, 235, 236, 238, 243, 244, 248, 277, 540, and 541 will be removed and replaced with new, more efficient routes 225, 230, 231, 239, 250, and 544. Instead of going directly to downtown Seattle, Route 255 will run to the University of Washington light rail station where riders can take the light rail through downtown. To replace some of this lost service, new route 544 will run from South Kirkland to South Lake Union. Route 930 will run all day and in the evening. All other service will remain the same. Finally, Metro will create new Community Ride and Community Van services to fill in service gaps. To learn more, contact Shelby Cramer at scramer@kingcounty.gov or 206.263.1109.
