

Please join us by donating fresh produce from your garden!

Many home and community gardeners help keep our produce bins stocked throughout the growing season.

Donations of fresh, unspoiled produce may be dropped off at any of Hopelink's no-cost Food Markets during the following hours.

How does my donation help address food insecurity in our community?

Hopelink's Food Assistance program operates five Hopelink Food Markets with locations in Bellevue, Redmond, Shoreline, Kirkland, and Carnation, in addition to the Mobile Market.

At no cost, clients can shop at Hopelink Food Markets as they would in typical grocery stores by choosing the items that best fit their household needs. Our staff are committed to offering culturally relevant, local, and nutritious produce to our clients.

With your support we can ensure that the thousands of households that visit Hopelink's Markets each year can fill their carts with local and fresh produce for their families.
